One day down on the farm, Duck got a wild idea. "I bet I could ride a bike," he thought. He waddled over to where the boy parked his bike, climbed on and began to ride. At first he rode slowly and he wobbled a lot, but it was fun! Duck rode past Cow and waved to her. "Hello, Cow!" said Duck. "Moo," said Cow. But what she thought was, "A duck on a bike? That's the silliest thing I've ever seen!" And so Duck rides past sheep, horse, and all the other barnyard animals. Suddenly, a group of kids ride by on their bikes and run into the farmhouse, leaving the bikes outside. Now ALL the animals can ride bikes, just like Duck!

Ted's Bike Ride is a fun rhyming children's picture book that introduces children to Phonic sounds for the first time. Ted's Bike Ride tells the story of a teddy bear named Ted who travels along on his bike meeting a range of animals as he goes. Ted takes the time to learn the noises of the animals that he meets in a fun and entertaining way that both adults and kids really enjoy. Expect to find yourself Mooing and Woofing and Oinking out loud with your children as Ted meets a range of animals that include a cow, a dog, a pig, a duck, a horse and a sheep until he finally returns home and meets his stereotypically grumpy cat. Ideal for kids aged between 2 to 6 years, from toddlers upwards and for boys and girls, Ted's Bike Ride helps children to learn to read by introducing new readers to the phonic sounds made by the animals (such as the moo of a cow). The big bright pictures within the animal story bring the script to life and will have your children laughing, pointing and reading along to the animal sounds as you read together. Although not written by Julia Donaldson, Ted's Bike Ride is written with a similar rhyming rhythm which is easy to read and makes any adult or child sound like a natural story teller. Ted's Bike Ride has the potential to be a 2017 Best Seller as parents and children around the world fall in love with the character and his cycling adventure.

A fun way to teach children how to write from one to ten. Bikes have been a staple to children, teenagers, and adults all around the world. As a child, you start out riding a small bike, then to a bigger bike, and finally maybe to a motorcycle. Your children and you will enjoy the pictures of the different colored pillows on the motorbikes. Let your child's imagination take over while having fun learning to write. Included in the dedication is the history of the first bike. The idea behind this little book is learning to write while also learning the history about the first bike. This was an awesome book and workbook to create. It brought back some of my childhood experiences. I remember as a kid learning how to ride my first bike, advancing to a bigger bike, then to a motorized bike, and then finally to a big motorcycle. Not everyone has the desire to ride a motorcycle, but I found working on them and riding them very soothing and relaxing. Developing a short story that teaches numbers while racing around a dirt track was very fun. I wrote and illustrated the fun into the book, so kids can see and feel the fun like I did. The handmade illustrations are colorful and fun to look at. Your child's imagination will take over and the fun of learning will start. The concept in the way this book is written was to make it interactive so you could also have some fun with your child while you are helping them learn to write, count and read. Book Details Book Cover The book cover brings the character "Pillow" and the bike into view. It gives you a preview of what the illustrations will look like that will be in the book. The Pillow, as the character, is relatable because it is an item that we all use each day. It brings humor and imagination into the book. A Pillow riding a bike, ha-ha!! Dedication This dedication goes out to everyone that helps to reduce climate change. Did you know that a volcano (Mount Tambora) in 1815 on the island of Sumbawa in Indonesia was the largest recorded eruption in recorded history. The result from this eruption was the invention of the first bicycle called laufmaschine ("running machine"). The laufmaschine also referred to as the dandy horse, was invented by Baron Karl von Drais, a German inventor. This was invented due to the climate change that resulted from the volcano eruption. Horses were used less due to lack of resources to feed them, which drove the need for other means of transporting things to be invented. To this day, we invent machinery to help reduce climate change, or to help us with climate change. Character The Pillow being the character riding the bike, is like the pillow your child is familiar with at bedtime or relaxing with on the couch. The different color Pillows racing around this dirt track is fun to look at while switching pages through the book. Each Pillow has its own way of advancing their number on the dirt track while trying to win the race. Writing The writing voice in the eBook is that of a sports commentator. As your children and you read this book, you both will sound like you are a sports commentator. In this book, you will see each number, the sequence of the numbers and the numbers spelled out. I love using funny phrases to make your children and you chuckle at the same time as you are helping them learn. My goal is to make learning fun.
